Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Habakkuk 1:2-3; 2:2-4 • Ps 95:1-2, 6-7, 8-9
 2 Timothy 1:6-8, 13-14 • Luke 17:5-10

Gratitude is the key to a Christian life. Today's readings demonstrate the power and vital importance of gratitude in the life of the Christian disciple, for gratitude leads us to worship God, who offers us salvation.

We see the power of gratitude on display in the Gospel passage from Luke after Jesus heals 10 lepers. "And one of them, realizing he had been healed, returned." Only one of the 10 recognized the tremendous blessing he had received from Jesus, and he returned to thank Him. While it's easy to feel indignant at the failure of the nine others to return and thank Jesus, how often do we fail to recognize the blessings, answered prayers, and healings (both physical and spiritual), that the Lord showers upon us day and night?

The truth is that our very lives and every breath we take are His gift to us. But we can get so caught up in the stresses and distractions of daily life that we lose touch with this truth.

The Samaritan reacts to his gift of healing with the proper response to our loving God. Recognizing what he had just received from the Lord, he "returned, glorifying God in a loud voice; and he fell at the feet of Jesus and thanked Him." He was grateful for what God had done for him and this gratitude led to worship.

And because of this response, Jesus offered him a far more precious gift than physical healing; He offered him the gift of salvation. "Stand up and go; your faith has saved you."

Too often we hear the phrase, "Count your blessings," and write it off as nothing more than a trite saying. Today's Gospel shows us otherwise. Gratitude is powerful. It deepens our faith in God and leads us to fitting worship of Him. 🙏

Anointing of the Sick

Following the weekend Masses on October 19 & 20

In the Church's Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick, through the ministry of the priest, it is Jesus who touches the sick to heal them from sin – and sometimes even from physical ailment. His cures were signs of the arrival of the Kingdom of God. The core message of his healing tells us of his plan to conquer sin and death by his dying and rising.

When the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick is given, the hoped-for effect is that, if it be God's will, the person be physically healed of illness. But even if there is no physical healing, the primary effect of the Sacrament is a spiritual healing by which the sick person receives the Holy Spirit's gift of peace and courage to deal with the difficulties that accompany serious illness or the frailty of old age.

At the Cathedral of Saint Joseph, the communal celebration of the Anointing of the Sick will be held following the 6:00 p.m., 8:00 p.m. and 10:30 a.m. Masses on the weekend of October 19/20 - the weekend closest to the Feast of Saint Luke the Evangelist. Saint Luke was a doctor and he traveled with Saint Paul on his second missionary journey. In fact, Paul calls Luke his "beloved physician" (Colossians 4:14). Because he cared for the bodily needs of others, Luke is the patron saint of doctors.

October: Month of the Most Holy Rosary

On October 7, we celebrate a well-loved memorial in honor of the Rosary, and according to a long standing tradition, the entire month of October is dedicated to the Most Holy Rosary. In the Rosary, with its sequence of prayers and mysteries, we contemplate the Gospel in company with the Blessed Virgin Mary. As St. John Paul II wrote in 2002, “the Rosary....is a prayer loved by countless Saints and encouraged by the Magisterium. Through the Rosary the faithful receive abundant grace, as though from the very hands of the Mother of the Redeemer” (Rosarium Virginis Mariae, 1). Pope Francis has invited all the faithful of all the world to pray the Holy Rosary daily during the entire Marian month October. According to the communique from the Vatican Press Office, the Holy Father wants all to join in communion and in penitence, as the people of God, in asking the Holy Mother of God and Saint Michael the Archangel to protect the Church from the devil, who always seeks to separate us from God and from each other.

A Daily Prayer by Cardinal Newman

May He support us all the day long, till the shades lengthen and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is over, and our work is done. Then in His mercy may He give us a safe lodging, and a holy rest and peace at the last.

John Henry Cardinal Newman (1801-1890) was a British scholar, philosopher, writer, and Anglican priest before he became Catholic. He was beatified and declared “blessed” by Pope Benedict XVI in 2010 and will be canonized this Sunday, October 13, 2019 by Pope Francis. To learn more about Cardinal Newman, see page 5 of this issue of The Cathedral Courier.

The Christian battle is against evil, not people, pope says

By Carol Glatz, Catholic News Service

VATICAN CITY (CNS) -- When Catholics attack other members of the church, they are hurting Christ, Pope Francis said.

"Even those who are ideologists, because they want the 'purity' of the church, strike at Christ," he said during his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Square Oct. 9.

Taking a break from the Synod of Bishops for the Amazon, the pope led the audience and continued his series of talks on the Acts of the Apostles.

He focused on the persecution of the church after St. Stephen's martyrdom, and on St. Paul's transformation from being known as Saul and a persecutor to being Paul, a disciple of Christ and courageous preacher of the Gospel.

Saul wanted to destroy the church and he would hunt down Christians to be imprisoned.

Pope Francis said those people at the audience who have experienced or whose communities have experienced "persecution by dictators understand well what it means to 'hunt people down,' and that is what Saul did."

Saul thought he was serving God's law, the pope said, and he saw Christianity as a doctrinal divergence from Judaism.

But inside of Saul, with his "murderous threats," there "blew a breeze that smelled of death, not life," the pope said.

Saul is depicted as someone who shows great intolerance toward those who think differently from him and who reduces them to potential enemies to crush, he said.

Saul, he said, turns religion into "a religious ideology, a social ideology and a political ideology."

It is only with his conversion on the road to Damascus, when Christ touches his heart, that Saul, blinded and helpless, becomes Paul and is reborn through baptism.

"Only after he has been transformed by Christ will he teach that the true struggle 'is not with flesh and blood,' but against the powers of darkness, against the evil spirits," Pope Francis said.

Paul, he said, teaches "that you mustn't fight people, but fight the evil that inspires their actions."

Saul's angry and confrontational approach, the pope said, "invites all of us to ask ourselves: How do I live my life of faith? Do I go to encounter others or am I against others? Does everyone -- the good and the bad -- belong to the universal church or is it a selective ideology?"

"Do I worship God or do I worship dogmatic formulations? Does the faith in God I profess make me friendly or hostile toward those who are different from me?" he asked.

When the risen Christ calls to him on the road to Damascus and asks, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?" the pope said, he is showing how hurting one member of the church is hurting Christ himself, because all those who believe in him are one body in Christ.

With baptism, Paul's life and his way of seeing God, himself and others are transformed, the pope said. Now other people are no longer enemies, but are "brothers and sisters in Christ."

The pope asked people pray to experience, like Paul, the full impact of God's love, "which alone can turn our stony hearts into hearts of flesh," capable of welcoming others in the same way as Jesus himself. 🙏

ABOUT OUR PARISH

The Cathedral has been a center of Catholic life in Wheeling and the Diocese from the time of its humble wood frame (1823) to the majesty of its current Romanesque carved stone (1926). All city parishes and many in the Northern Panhandle were formed from the Cathedral. In the 1920s alone four congregations sprung from the Cathedral to serve the influx of immigrants into the city: St. Anthony (East Wheeling) was closed in 1968; Sacred Heart (north Wheeling), St. Joan of Arc (Fulton) and Blessed Trinity (Wheeling Island) were all closed in 1995.

Luke 17:11-19

This week we again hear another story about a remarkable healing done by Jesus. As soon as the title “the ten lepers” is mentioned we know the rest of the story. Ten people were healed of leprosy and only one returned to say thank you. But there is so much more. Lepers were outcasts. They were relegated to the outskirts of town for two reasons, contagion certainly, but also because the Jewish people regarded sickness a result of sin. This sin was because of something the afflicted person’s or their parents did to cause this, and therefore people who had it were considered unclean. No one could associate with them, and if they did they were considered unclean. Jesus breaks through this social taboo. Healed or not, there was no way they could return to the community without being ritually purified by the priests. It is interesting that Jesus does not touch them. He just gives them a direction and they are healed on the way!

And the one who returned to give thanks, Jesus notes, is a foreigner, not a Jew. “Stand up and go; your faith has saved you.” We often think of this Gospel reading as a story of gratitude. It is, but it is more. It also emphasizes several themes that run throughout Luke’s Gospel. Jesus reaches out to the marginalized. Jesus came to save all people, even foreigners. The ten were healed, but it appears that the healing only inspired faith in one, and that faith brought him more than healing. He was saved.

If one had to list the top ten words in the New Testament, one of those words would have to be “thanks” or “gratitude.” Eventually when Christians gathered to celebrate their shared faith in Jesus, they would call their gathering “the Eucharist.” That’s the Greek word for thanksgiving. At the beginning of almost all his letters to the early Christian community, Saint Paul mentions “giving thanks,” sometimes over and over again. Christians were known for their attitude of gratitude.

Giving thanks is important. And it can change the way we look at everything! Maybe that’s why Jesus said to the grateful man, your faith (your deep understanding of what has happened to you and your response) has saved you. It has freed you for a whole new way of living. 🌿

Cardinal Newman

This Sunday, October 13, Pope Francis will celebrate the canonization of five people, including Cardinal Newman. John Henry Newman, one of the great Christian intellectuals of the nineteenth century, was born in London in 1801. His spiritual quest having begun in adolescence, he later went on to study theology at Oxford University. Subsequently, he became an Anglican pastor, a fellow of Oriel College, and leader of the Oxford Movement which studied the Catholic roots of the faith in England. In 1842, while writing his “Essay on the Development of Christian Doctrine”, he began to mature his conversion to Catholicism. He was admitted into the Catholic Church in 1845 and ordained a Catholic priest in Rome on 1 June 1847. Following his ordination, and with the encouragement of Pope Pius IX, he founded the first Oratory of St. Philip Neri in England. In 1852 he was appointed rector of the Catholic University of Dublin, Ireland, a post he held until 1854. Pope Leo XIII made him a cardinal in 1879 and he died in 1890 at the Oratory of Edgbaston. The process for his beatification began in 1958.

This Week with the Saints

October 14 - Following a life of slavery and hard labor, Saint Callistus I (†222) was appointed deacon in charge of the Christian cemetery on the Appian Way, now called the catacomb of San Callisto. Recognized for abounding wisdom and natural leadership, he was elected pope. He had many critics, due to his liberal stance regarding the forgiveness of those who had apostatized during times of persecution. Heeding the commands of Christ, he believed the repentant should be forgiven and welcomed back into the Church. Tradition maintains that he began the Ember Days, periods of fasting and abstinence, which are no longer observed among Catholics. He is commemorated as a martyr and was probably killed during a public disturbance. Patronage: cemetery workers

October 15 - Saint Teresa of Jesus (1515-1582), more commonly known as St. Teresa of Avila, joined the Carmelite Convent of the Incarnation at the age of 21. Disheartened by the laxness of its observance of the Carmelite Rule, in particular its opulent nature and overly social atmosphere, she began a reform movement laying the framework for the Discalced Carmelites. This new branch of Carmelites modeled themselves on the poor and crucified Christ, adopting the life of poverty and abstinence. In collaboration with St. John of the Cross, she helped bring this new way of life to the male Carmelite communities. Although their reforms were met with great resistance, they moved forward with faith and persistence. Among her many writings, she is well known for two classics: The Way of Perfection and The Interior Castle. Patronage: those who suffer from headaches and bodily ills, lacemakers, Spain

October 16 - Saint Hedwig (1174-1243) was born in Andechs, Bavaria, Germany. At the age of twelve, Hedwig was married to Duke Henry of Silesia, the head of the Polish Royal family. She bore him seven children, and they had a happy marriage. Henry founded a Cistercain convent at Trebnitz, as well as hospitals and monasteries. Henry died in 1238 and Hedwig became a Cistercian at Trebnitz. She was the aunt of St. Elizabeth of Hungary. Patronage: against jealousy

Also on October 16, we celebrate Saint Margaret Mary Alacoque (1657-1690), a French visitation nun and mystic who promoted devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. In a series of visions, the form of this devotion was revealed: Holy Communion on the First Friday of each month, and the institution of the Solemnity of the Sacred Heart. Margaret Mary was criticized by the other nuns but had the support of the community's confessor, St. Claude de la Colombière. Patronage: devotees of the Sacred Heart

October 17 - Saint Ignatius of Antioch (c.50-107) was an Apostolic Father and possible disciple of John the Evangelist. He served the community of Antioch as bishop. Living during the anti-Christian reign of the Roman emperor Trajan, he was sentenced to be fed to animals in the Roman colosseum because he refused to engage in idol worship. His journey to Rome was marked by extensive writing in which he composed seven letters. These letters, directed to various churches, emphasized the humanity and divinity of Christ, the centrality of the Eucharist, and the importance of Church unity.

October 18 - Saint Luke († 1st c.), the evangelist and disciple of the Lord, is traditionally known as the author of the Gospel that bears his name as well as of the Acts of the Apostles. He is also identified with the "beloved physician" referred to by St. Paul (Colossians 4:14). Luke was a Gentile from Antioch in Syria, and his roots show both in his writing style and in his sympathetic treatment of Gentiles in the Gospel that bears his name. According to the Acts of the Apostles, he accompanied St. Paul on some of his evangelizing journeys, and he stayed with Paul when he was imprisoned in Rome. Some sources claim he was martyred, but it is thought that he died an old man of natural causes. A tradition states that he was the first icon painter, and the Black Madonna of Czestochowa is attributed to him. His symbol is an ox or bull because the Lucan Gospel begins with Zachary, the father of John the Baptist, offering a sacrifice in the temple. Patronage: medical profession; painters; artists; sculptors; butchers

Saints ... Continued from Page 6

October 19 - The Martyrs of North America, six Jesuit priests and two lay missionaries, were killed for evangelizing New France, known today as Canada. Their missionary endeavors were successful on many levels, especially with the Huron tribe, but they were despised by the Iroquois and Mohawks, the enemies of the Hurons.

The anti-Christian sentiment of the Iroquois and Mohawks led to the killing of seven priests and laypeople over an eight-year period of time. Two of the more notable figures, Saint John de Brébeuf (1593-1649) and Saint Isaac Jogues (1607-1646), both priests, formed the backbone of the mission. Other martyrs were Gabriel Lalemant, Noel Chabanel, Charles Garnier, Anony Daniel, Rene Goupil, and John de Lalande. Three of these martyrs were killed in what is now New York state. Patronage: Canada

Here's why Mary is the secret for growing in faith

By Kathleen N. Hattrup

Hint: Have you considered Mary's role in the first disciples' faith?

Our Lady is the intercessor par excellence, but sometimes it helps to consider her maternal intervention in our specific needs. For example, if we are feeling weak in faith, or hoping to bring our loved ones to faith, we should turn to Mary.

Why? Well, consider this reflection from St. Josemaria Escriva: "If our faith is weak, we should turn to Mary. Because of the miracle at the marriage feast of Cana, which Christ performed at his Mother's request, his disciples learned to believe in him (John 2:11). Our Mother is always interceding with her Son so that he may attend to our needs and show himself to us, so that we can cry out, 'You are the Son of God.'"

It was through the Virgin Mary that Jesus' first followers came to believe in Him. Why should it be any different now?

So, when plagued by doubts, or when your faith simply doesn't seem to be enough to confront the mountains before you, call on Our Lady! 🙏

Don't forget that October is the Month of the Rosary. Take some time each day to pray the rosary. Many great popes, saints, and Christian leaders have exhorted us to pray the rosary. It's a powerful prayer, they say, one that can change your life, strengthen the family, bring peace to the world, convert entire nations, and win the salvation of souls.
